Thirty-First Sunday in Ordinary Time

October 30, 2016

Wisdom 11:22, 12:2; 2 The 1:11, 2:2; Lk 19:1-10
Psalm 145

Dear Families:

Sometimes, because of what others say about us, we may feel small and insignificant, as if we were useless and worthless. This appears to have been the case, with Zacchaeus, who was short in stature. He may also have felt unworthy, due to his job as chief tax collector for the Roman Empire - the main oppressor of the Jews. But when Jesus stopped in front of the tree that Zacchaeus had climbed; looked up at him with compassion; and asked to be invited to his house, Jesus restored Zacchaeus' dignity to him. With that simple gesture, Jesus changed his life.

Sometimes all it takes is a glance, a word, or a gesture from someone who cares and loves us, to make us change. We need only be ready to receive Jesus' acceptance, as Zacchaeus did. "Today salvation has come to this house...", were the words of Jesus, as he entered Zacchaeus' house. Jesus loves us all; to let us be seen by him is to regain our dignity, as God's loved ones.

Solemnity of All Saints November 1, 2016 (A Holy Day of Obligation)

Revelation 7:2-4, 9-14; Psalm 24:1bc-2, 3-4ab, 5-6;
1 John 3:1-3; Mt 5:1-12a

We are reminded by the first reading from the Book of Revelation that "Salvation comes from our God." The glory that the saints enjoy is not so much due to their merit, as it is due to God's grace, which has made these poor, sinful creatures pure and clean. To see God is supernatural, and therefore a free gift from God. What we call our good works are simply conditions required by God, so that he can give himself freely to us. Let us not make it difficult for God to give us heaven.

The notion that we need "recommendations" is pure doctrine of the Catholic Church. The Saints, who are in heaven, receive our petitions. Mary, the Saints of our devotion and all the Saints, want us to share in glory. They are our intercessors before Jesus, our Savior, who leads all who live faithfully on earth to the Father's presence.

The Saints are models for our life; representing what can be achieved, with the grace of God. We naturally ask ourselves, "...and why can't I be that way?..."

We will never lack access to the grace of God. The examples of the Saints are always there to guide us. All that is required is that we desire (and open ourselves to) God's love. If we are faithful, he will never fail us.

Trigésimo Primer Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

30 de Octubre del 2016

Sab 11:22-12:2; 2 Tes 1:11-12:2; Lc 19:1-10
Salmo 145 [144]

Queridas Familias:

A veces nos ocurre que por lo que los demás dicen de nosotros, nos sentimos menos y a veces más pequeños e insignificantes; como si no contáramos, y no sirviéramos para nada. Algo así le debió pasar a Zaqueo, por ser bajo de estatura y además se sentía verdaderamente indigno por su oficio de recaudador de impuestos para el Imperio Romano, opresor de los judíos. Pero Jesús se detiene frente al árbol donde está subido, lo mira compasivo y le pide que le invite a cenar a su casa. Jesús le devuelve su dignidad, su valor. Y con aquel gesto tan sencillo le ayuda a cambiar de manera de vivir.

Una mirada, una palabra, un gesto de una persona que nos quiere, también nos puede hacer cambiar. Solo hace falta querer ser mirados y mirar como lo hizo Zaqueo y lo hizo Jesús. Hoy ha entrado la salvación a esta casa, fueron las palabras de Jesús al entrar en la casa de Zaqueo. Jesús ama a todos; dejarse mirar por él es recobrar nuestra dignidad de seres amados por Dios.

Solemnidad de Todos los Santos 1 de noviembre del 2016 (Es Día de Santa Obligación)

Ap 7:2-4, 9-14; Sal 24 [23] 1bc-2, 3-4ab, 5-6;
1 Jn 3:1-3; Mt 5:1-12a

La salvación es de nuestro Dios, nos ha recordado la primera lectura del Apocalipsis. La gloria que poseen y gozan los santos no es tanto mérito suyo sino gracia de Dios que ha hecho de unos pobres pecadores seres puros y limpios. El ver a Dios es algo sobrenatural y por lo tanto un don gratuito de Dios. Lo que llamamos nuestras buenas obras son simplemente condiciones exigidas por Dios para dárnoslas gratuitamente. No le pongamos difícil a Dios el que nos dé el cielo.

Necesitamos recomendaciones (esta es pura doctrina de la Iglesia católica). Los santos, los que están en el cielo, reciben nuestras peticiones. María, los santos de nuestra devoción y todos los Santos, quieren que también nosotros lleguemos a la gloria. Ellos son nuestros intercesores ante Jesús nuestro Salvador que lleva a la presencia del Padre a todos los que con fe viven sobre la tierra.

Los Santos son modelos para nuestra vida, lo que ellos hicieron con la gracia de Dios. Por qué no lo puedo hacer yo?

La gracia de Dios no nos va a faltar. Nos ayuda el ejemplo de los santos. Todo está en querer. Lo demás es cosa de Dios, que nunca falla.

The Commemoration of
All the Faithful Departed
(All Souls)
November 2, 2016

Wisdom 3:1-9; Psalm 23: 1-3a, 3b-4, 5,6; Romans 6:3-9;
John 11:17-27

Today we offer up our sacrifices, alms and prayers for those who have died and have yet to purge (Purgatory-purification). We Catholics do this in a very special way, by celebrating the redemptive sacrifice of Christ, through the Eucharist, or Holy Mass. In our faith resides the certainty that God will bestow His glory upon us. We are his children, through Baptism, and we are saved by the death and resurrection of Jesus.

This is why, today, we are confident to offer sacrifice and prayer, for our faithful departed.

May God bless you.

Father Celestino, Pastor

Commemoración de Todos
los Fieles Difuntos
2 de noviembre del 2016

Sab 3:1-9; Sal 23: 1-3a, 3b-4, 5,6; Rom 6:3-9;
Juan 11:17-27

Hoy nos sentimos tales para ayudar con nuestros sacrificios, limosnas y oraciones a los que han muerto y que aún tienen que purgar (Purgatorio-purificación). Y los católicos lo hacemos de forma muy especial celebrando el sacrificio redentor de Cristo que se repite de forma incruenta en la Eucaristía (la Santa Misa). Tenemos la certeza de Dios que nos dará su gloria. Somos sus hijos por el Bautismo y somos salvados por la muerte y resurrección de Jesús.

Por eso hoy rezamos con fe por nuestros difuntos.

Que Dios los bendiga.

Padre Celestino, Párroco

Reflections of Pope Francis

The concrete sign that we have truly encountered Jesus is the joy that we show in communicating it to others.

Holiness is to live by being loving and offering our Christian witness in our everyday lives.

Reflexiones del Papa Francisco

La santidad es vivir siendo amorosos y ofreciendo nuestro testimonio cristiano en nuestra vida cotidiana.

October 30

30 de Octubre

We cooperate with the life-giving love of God each time we reach out to those who may be unsure about how to handle their pregnancy, and give them the strength to love their unborn child. We do likewise when we strengthen those who care for the vulnerable, the disabled and the dying. By helping one another grow in love for the weakest in the human family, we and they literally become more like God, for (as the first reading says) "how could a thing remain unless you willed it, or be preserved, had it not been called forth by you?"

Cooperamos con el amor vivificante de Dios cada vez que nos acercamos a los que puedan estar inseguros acerca de cómo manejar su embarazo, y les damos fortaleza para amar a su hijo no nacido. Hacemos lo mismo cuando fortalecemos a los que cuidan a los vulnerables, los discapacitados y los moribundos. Al ayudarnos mutuamente a crecer en el amor a los miembros de la familia humana, tanto ellos como nosotros literalmente, nos hacemos más semejantes a Dios, porque (como dice la primera lectura) "¿cómo podríamos seguir existiendo las cosas, si tú no lo quisieras? ¿Cómo habr'á podido conservarse algo hasta ahora, si tú no lo hubieras llamado a la existencia?"
